

Up to £2,500 extra in part exchange if you trade in your old digital or acoustic piano for a beautiful new Yamaha

More notes for your old piano with Yamaha's guaranteed part exchange programme

Has your piano reached retirement age? If so, thanks to the Yamaha Piano Upgrade Bonus scheme, there's never been a better time to invest in a new Yamaha piano.

For a limited period only, our Upgrade Bonus scheme offers individuals and institutions guaranteed part-exchange prices on their old acoustic and digital pianos. For music schools and other institutions the scheme presents a great opportunity to rejuvenate instruments and make savings in future maintenance costs. Adding up to £2,500 to the value of your old piano, the Yamaha Piano Upgrade Bonus programme could turn the dream of owning a beautiful new Yamaha into reality.

The upgrade offer applies to a range of new Yamaha pianos from entry-level uprights through to silent models, grand pianos and the award-winning range of Disklaviers.

Yamaha pianos are the choice of many of the world's leading pianists and composers, and are to be found in conservatoires and concert halls across the globe. Thanks to the Yamaha Upgrade Bonus scheme, owning one yourself just got a whole lot easier.

Terms and Conditions

The amount of the bonus depends on the category of instrument purchased and part exchanged.

A digital piano (with 88 weighted keys) ranges from £150 when buying an entry-level upright piano, up to £1500 on the purchase of a large grand piano. A higher trade-in bonus is available when trading in an acoustic piano and the bonus is even bigger when buying a Silent Piano! The purchase of a Disklavier grand piano would attract the maximum bonus of £2,500. Ask your Yamaha Piano Dealer for the exact conditions.

The total part exchange price offered will be at the discretion of your Yamaha Piano Dealer. The Yamaha Piano Upgrade Bonus cannot be combined with any other Yamaha Piano offers.

The Yamaha Piano Upgrade Bonus does not apply to B-series acoustic pianos.

The Yamaha Piano Upgrade Bonus scheme runs from 1st September 2011 until 31st January 2012.
